As in games where you run around really fast probably have a greater chance of getting you sick.. Eyes Bandegades 3d 2010 Pc Fps Boost Didn't get it 4 - 6 years ago when I was playing FPS games like Quake on my 17 to 19 inch monitors.. Every new installment features a whole different game genre, from Space Shooter, to FPS, Strategy and many more.. Your point of view shifts up and down slightly and it isn't usually very noticeable.

Because I was a much faster player than him, using strafe and constantly moving/running he told me that he felt sick watching me play.. I don't actually feel like I'm going to barf but I do feel vaguely dizzy and generally crappy.. The only thing I have ever encountered when playing games is a splitting headache when playing on my old CRT monitor at 60Hz but at anything above that I was perfectly fine.. Recall the old school genre of Space Shooter in astonishing 3D environments as you use your spaceship to shoot, dodge and exterminate the enigmatic Nagjut forces.

So far I haven't had any problems with FarCry, F E A R , SSSE, SS2, but my wife can't play SSSE [Serious Sam Second Encounter], she gets sick.. This used to be configurable in HL1 through the cl_bob command in the console I do not know if the command works/worked in single player.. Eyes Bandegades 3d 2010 Pc Fps Games The longer I play the longer it lasts after too.. I don't get it at all personally but I noticed when playing DOOM with my dad that he was ok when he played it but as soon as I taken over the controls.. At CES last week, the atmosphere at Sony's 3D gaming area and at Nvidia's panoramic 3D Vision Surround gaming demo stations was totally different from that at the many booths with 3D TVs on display.

I assumed it was age related but now I wonder if it's the larger monitors I'm using or something else related to the newer 3d engines and tech.. Eyes Bandegades 3d 2010 Pc Fps Tester The distant scenery will move up and down more than nearby objects.. I get it now on most FPS games - have been for a few years It's a real bummer because shooters are my favorites.

I had to stop playing after about 10 minutes It's the first FPS since Half Life to give me motion sickness.. Also, I have never had a mmorpg get me sick even though most are first person I think it has to do with the speed of movement.. I've had this FPS nausea problem ever since the days of Wolfenstein 3d! (so quite a long time) It's wierd though because some FPS's get me sick and others dont.. Does it happen to any of you? If so in what games? The game Will Rock did that to me, I don't know why but it really was uncomfortable, I would play about an hour and suffer for three to four hours afterward dizzy as a coot..
